

Code of Ethics for QHHT Hypnotists

All Hypnotists shall assist in maintaining the integrity and competence of the Hypnosis Profession by agreeing to abide by the following code of professional ethics.

1. You shall conduct sessions at all times in a professional manner within a professional setting.
2. You shall obey all federal, state and local laws and regulations concerning the practice of hypnosis.
3. All matters between you and your client shall be confidential. No third party shall have access to information given to the you by the client or the client's session recording. Exceptions:
 - a) When the client has granted permission in writing to divulge private information
 - b) Where life is at risk by withholding private information
 - c) By force of law
4. Sexual activity shall not occur between you and a client during the complete course of sessions from you and for a period of at least 2 years after the professional relationship has ended.
5. You shall have a responsible attitude in retaining the good name of hypnotist by attention to personal conduct.
6. You shall keep up-to-date with material and innovation in the field of hypnosis.
7. Prior to entering into any professional relationship, you shall disclose to the client the nature of the session, the purpose of the session, the anticipated length of the session, and potential cost of the session.
8. If during the course of a session, information is disclosed that would suggest that a referral or consultation with other professionals would be appropriate, the session shall be terminated and the referral or consultation shall be made if requested by the client.

9. If you are working by referral from another professional, you shall only perform such services as are specified in the referral, and shall terminate the relationship after such services are provided.
10. You shall terminate your relationship with a client when the client can no longer benefit from continued service and shall not provide service if you do not have a good faith belief that the client will benefit from the services provided.
